IAN HUNTER

acoustic set & strings-118 mins

Live at UNION CHAPEL/ London

October 10th -2010

As Hunter watchers will know, in 2001 Ian played two celebrated concerts with a string orchestra in Oslo, recorded for posterity on the Strings Attached DVD. Hunter fans have always hoped that he would be able to bring that show to the UK, but, in keeping with his policy of not repeating himself, Ian decided to take a new twist on the idea by using the full Rant Band acoustically alongside a four-piece string quartet. Ian has promised a different set from the electric shows which make up the main body of the tour, including titles rarely played live before.

ELLIE GOULDING

Hammersmith Apollo-London

November 19th

2010

That Ellie Goulding topped the BBC's Sound of 2010 poll and won the Critics' award at the Brits counts for precisely nothing as of now. Her debut album signals the next chapter in the career of an artist who, with only a pair of singles reaching the world beyond the music industry, seems to have been handed success on a plate. But the past is just that, the page has turned; here is where Goulding truly lays down the foundations for either a 15-minute stand or, she'd hope, a lengthy tenure in our hearts.

2010's poll-winners' party has only just begun, but expect Goulding to be the last one standing.

The term 'supergroup' is something of a golden albatross. Joining vocalist/bassist Glenn 'Voice of Rock' Hughes (Deep Purple/Black Sabbath) are former Dream Theater keyboard player Derek Sherinian, drummer Jason Bonham (son of late Led Zeppelin sticksman John) and guitarist Joe Bonamassa, currently one of the top bluesmen in business. With direct links back to Zeppelin, Black Sabbath and Deep Purple.
